Teachers and all other parties who hold legitimate school claims against this county, due prior to November, 1873, will please report them immediately at my office, for registration. THOMAS PHILLIPS, School Commissioner.

Locals scarce.
Weather cold and rainy.

Hoyt Hardee and Bunch were executed in Charleston yesterday.

Dr. Webster has gone North on business and will remain till the 1st of May.

A new street has been opened back of Judge Glover's residence, leading from Broughton Street to the Railroad.

An important referee case was decided before Geo. Boliver on Thursday.

There was a meeting of the Orangeburg bar at Judge Glover's office on Monday, to arrange for the cases to be tried at the extra session of the Court of Common Pleas.

The frost of last Monday did great damage in this place. Some of the gardens that were looking splendidly the day before were a sorry sight to behold on Monday.

Dr. Dukes has opened his soda fountain for the season. We hope that next week we shall have such sunny weather as to feel induced to take a refreshing draught of his excellent Soda.

T. Kohn & Bro. lost none of their popularity by the late fire, though they did much of their stock. But a new stock is on hand, and the public should give them a call; if you buy nothing you will always get polite treatment, free, at Kohn's.

C. D. Kortjohn is meeting with the success in business that his enterprise and energy fully merit. His business has greatly increased of late, and all who patronize him once are sure to call again. We are glad to commend him to the public.

Our subscription list has increased lately so that we are obliged to add to our issue or stop sending papers to those who have not settled their bills. Within two weeks nearly a hundred names have been added to our list.

We were greatly gratified to receive the communication printed in another column, from a native Conservative. Our motto is, no compromise with corruption in either party. In all that we have said, we have had the "best interests of the whole people" at heart, and it is a satisfaction to us to receive such communications as we print to-day. We hope to so conduct the CITIZEN as to merit the approbation and good-will of the respectable and fair-minded people of our County, of both parties.

It is said that the News and Times will double this week. This is quite in "accordance with the eternal fitness of things." But still it is not always good policy to display two faces under one hood, though it may be a large one.

The body of young Burke, one of the unfortunate party drowned by the sinking of the yacht Ella Anna, was found on Tuesday, off Commins Point bouy.

Scipio Bryan and Elijah Atkinson were hung at Beaufort, last Friday, for the murder of Mr. T. S. Behn, near Grahamville, in June, 1874, nearly a year ago.

THANKS. We acknowledge a complimentary ticket to the second annual Fair of the Agricultural, Mechanical and Horticultural Association, of Mobile, A. L., C. C. Langdon, President and Wm. E. Mickle, Secretary.

With enlarged facilities for furnishing reading matter to the public, we hope the News and Times will soon publish those all-lays to show what has become of "that neat little pile of the people's money." We know that some connected with that paper have very treacherous memories, to say the least, but we shall occasionally remind the News of it promises to the public.

Niles G. Parker was arrested on Wednesday upon the complaint of D. H. Chamberlain, T. C. Dunn, S. W. Melton, W. B. Nash and Paris Simkins, as commissioners of the sinking fund, for embezzling money of that fund while State Treasurer to the amount of $28,100. The bail is fixed at $50,000, which cannot be given, and Parker goes to jail.

CHARLESTON DISTRICT CAMP MEETING. We learn that this meeting will commence on the 28th of April, and continue over the following Sabbath. The meeting will be under the direction of a committee of arrangements chosen by the Charleston churches. The meeting will be held upon the well known ground, near Ladson's Station, on the S. C. R. R. The R. R. will carry those attending the meeting at a reduced fare. The preachers and people interested in the meeting are invited to attend without respect to color or previous condition.

A RESPONSIBLE JOURNALIST. Some indignant person wrote to know who was the author of a sharp article in a Texas paper, to which the journal in question replied: "The man who wrote that article early in life was a hard working blacksmith, later he was a deck hand on a steamboat, then he was a cow boy on the frontier, but of late years he has followed the profession of a prize-fighter. He only became an editor to reduce his flesh by starvation, so as to become more successful in his peculiar line." No further inquiries were made.

We have been invited by the teacher, at the request of the children, of Lewisville School, Amelia township, District No. 4, to be present at an exhibition and picnic to be given by them on the first day of May. It would give us great pleasure to be present on that occasion but Saturday is a very busy day with us. Should we not be able to be present we hope some friend will furnish the CITIZEN with an account of the exercises. May it prove to all concerned the "Merriest day of all the glad New Year."

The Lexington centennial took place last Monday. The speakers were among the most accomplished and eloquent in the land, but the chilly air spoiled the effect of their splendid orations. George Wm. Curtis made the principal address at Concord, and Richard H. Dana performed the same duty at Lexington.

The following was one of the many toasts on that occasion: "The State of South Carolina. Never will Massachusetts forget the proud response of South Carolina the very night she heard the war note from Lexington. Governor Chamberlain may veto everything he wishes, but he must not veto our earnest respect for a voice from the Palmetto State to the Pine." Governor Chamberlain, who responded, was received with much applause, as were also his sentiments of earnest desire for the complete and early restoration of true fraternal feelings between the two great commonwealths.

Aloft, on the throne of God, and not below, in the footprints of a trampling multitude, are the sacred rules of right, which no majorities can displace or overturn.—Charles Sumner.

The following is the list of Petit Jury drawn by Joel Larkins, Esq., for the extra term of Court: Wm. Keiler, W. B. Livingston, Theodore Kohn, Louis Woodward, Tony Gibbs, A. N. Glover, F. M. Prickett, Wesley C. Wright, Jacob G. Keitt, Richard Miles, Wm. Smith, Wm. Brown, Charles Walker, David N. Charley, Wm. K. Crooke, W. W. Culler, Geo. Garvin, Frank Mathews, W. M. Sain, Dery Parlor, Rufus Feller, Cuffee Fiol, F. DeMars, Elijah Brown, Jeff Robinson, Joseph Johnson, Eli Summers, Levi Summers, Bob Cuffee, E. A. Nix, Phillip Crowell, F. F. Felder, Isaac Haigler, Ned White, Gab Summers, Louis Pauling.

A Kind Word from an Unexpected Source.

EDITOR FREE CITIZEN: I have noticed that the CITIZEN has been sued for libel and although a Conservative, and differing from you in some of the views which you express in the paper, I can assure you of the sympathy of the best Conservative element in our county. We are willing to ignore party differences and make with any one in favor of an honest government. Your course during the recent campaign and subsequently in fighting and exposing corruption in your party, has fully convinced us that we are not without a common bond of Union and that we can co-operate with you in your laudable efforts to bring about a better state of affairs in our country. We agree with you, also, in the support of Governor Chamberlain's administration, and that he and you chance to be born Northern Mason and Dixon's line does not in any degree detract from our appreciation of your honest efforts for reform. To us who look on, there seems little doubt of your ultimate success, as a just and honorable course, honorably pursued never fails to triumph in the end over injustice and wrong. While we regret that the Times, our only exponent of Conservative principles, has ceased to live, we are yet heartily glad that the banner of reform has been raised by a paper of a different political faith from our own. While these same (or similar) efforts to un-earth and drive out corrupt officials were being made by the Democratic press, the cry was raised "that it was all false, and that it was merely political capital." This cannot be said of the CITIZEN; and whatever may be said of it by court house politicians, and extremists of both parties, the Conservative element in the country is becoming better satisfied with your efforts to sustain and assist Governor Chamberlain in his policy of "reform, and an honest administration of public affairs."

Although the name of the Times has been coupled with that of the News, we cannot yet be brought to think that the principles of the Times were purchased with its material, and while we differ with you in some points, your fairness and uniformly upright course has engendered a confidence that you are working to the best interest of our whole people. Besides making many new friends, your course has obliterated many of the prejudices which met your first issue.

A NATIVE CONSERVATIVE.

A Lesson for Young Men.

On passing through one of the wards of the — prison, I accosted an elderly looking convict. He held down his head, as though ashamed to look me in the face. On handing him a tract he said, "I knew your voice as soon as I heard you, sir; I have heard you before to-day, sir." After a few words of explanation, I found that we had been at one time members of the same congregation, and sat under the same faithful ministry. I anxiously inquired how it was that he had fallen so low as to become the inmate of a prison.

"A glass of ale, sir, was my ruin," he replied. "How could that be," I asked. "I was at one period of my life, sir, very intemperate, but was happily led to give up drink entirely, although I did not sign any pledge, which I now lament. I became a regular attendant at the place of worship and joined the congregation. I went on very happily for some years, until one evening I was returning from —, when I met with some friends from Hull. They prevailed on me to go to the public house to have but 'one glass.' Conscience reproved me, but having entered upon the enchanted ground, I was readily induced to take more liquor, until I became overdone by it. The next morning I was ashamed to show myself, and left —, for Leeds. "My old appetite for drink had been rekindled; I became reckless, and joined a set of counterfeit coiners. We were discovered, convicted, and now I am to be transported. O, that I had never touched that one glass!—Basil of Hope Review."

THE SOUTHEASTERN ADVOCATE.

There is soon to be a paper entitled as above, issued from this office, and published in the interests of the M. E. Church in this portion of our work.

Since the unwise removal of the Charleston Advocate, our work has been enlarging and extending for a local organ. The Charleston Advocate was for two years published in Charleston. It was during this eventful period in the history of our cause in the South, one of the most important auxiliaries of our work. Its removal left a vacant place here which has not since been filled. It is an old saying, "that blessings brighten as they take their flight." This was emphatically true in reference to our paper for this coast. Many were taken by surprise at its sudden removal and were anxious for its return. If we had been as fully advertised of the wants and wishes of the people in this section, before the transfer of that paper to Atlanta, Ga., as we were after it was done, it would never have gone from us. The Methodist Advocate is a good paper and ably conducted, but it is too distant from the Atlantic coast to meet our local wants in this section. Our work on this coast differs in some particulars from our work in the section of Atlanta, or the valley of the Mississippi. Its peculiar phases cannot be met by those who live at a distance from us, and are not conversant with the exigencies and demands of this section. The people will have greater interest for that lives and sympathizes with them than can be awakened for one coming to them from a distance, and managed by comparative strangers.

It will be larger than the FREE CITIZEN, will be

Notices of the Press.

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudices or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe. The character which this MAGAZINE possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth, and literary culture that has kept pace with it, if it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The BAZAR is edited with a contribution of tact and talent that we seldom find in any journal; and the Journal itself is the organ of the great world of fashion.—Boston Traveller. The BAZAR commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by the droll and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by its fashion-plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for the children's clothes, to the paternalist by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fireside enjoyment it affords.—N. Y. Evening Post.
